

SUMMARY

Generellem gives you the ability to use AI on your own data. This data, in the form of documents, is located in many places and might be hard for individuals to find. Generellem gives you a chat interface that responds based on the data in your company. No more long file hunting and document reads.

We keep the system current, so that new content is added regularly. This lets you use AI with the latest IP your company creates.

We also bird dog on privacy, safety, and security (PSS). This gives you confidence that individual identifying information is protected, people feel safe when interacting with the system, and your company IP has industry standard protection against hackers.

“USE YOUR OWN DATA
WITH YOUR OWN AI”

FIND US ON GITHUB
AT
HTTPS://GITHUB.COM/GENERELLEM

YOUR OWN DATA

Although businesses have troves of data available, it isn't always easily accessible. It's stored on file servers, cloud storage, and document management systems. Sometimes, your data can be hard for an individual to find.

The issue is that you need to be able to find the documentation you need to perform your job. If you're doing marketing, where is the material for a product line. If you're a decision maker, what IP and history is available for you to analyze a situation. If you're a new hire, how to you learn about the company.

More than just a search engine, Generellem can find and surface this information, drilling down on what matters to each person in the company.

DATA ACCURACY/CURRENCY

General LLM solutions, such as Bard or ChatGPT, have a cutoff date that can vary, depending on the last time they build their LLM models. Further, they don't know anything about the unique IP of your company.

Generellem solves this by regularly scanning the data sources inside of your company. This ensures you have access to your own IP. It also ensures the latest information is available for high tempo operations.

PRIVACY/SAFETY/SECURITY

You've put a lot of pain, patience, and time into creating Intellectual Property (IP) that makes your company unique. At Generellem, we realize how important your privacy, safety, and security (PSS) is to you. You can expect for PSS is our default mode of operation.

We don't share any information about individuals to 3rd party businesses outside of our organization and protect access internally.

We also take action to ensure the safety of people using the system, helping to identify and eliminate content that could be disrupting to individuals.

Finally, security is important to us and we use industry standard solutions for protecting our systems and data.

